Exhibitions

The first exhibition held by the Society was given November 3, 1828, in the hall of the American Philosophical Society, Sixth Street below Chestnut, and these displays were held regularly while the Society continued with this as a meeting place.

The Council was constituted a Committee to Offer Premiums for Competition on December 7, 1829, and on January 4, 1830, reported to the Society with premiums of $42 for vegetables and $81 for fruits.

The annual exhibitions, which were held often under novel circumstances, attracted wide attention, not only by the beauty of the displays, but because of the many new varieties of fruits and vegetables which they supplied to the markets.

A glance through the annals of the Society reveals, for instance, that the Poinsettia was exhibited for the first time at the Society Exhibition in June, 1829; that the first Dahlias were shown before the members in 1832, and that the seed of the Sugar Beet was introduced into the United States by the organization and distributed to its members in 1836.

In June, 1841, in answer to a petition submitted to city councils by the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, the south side of Walnut street at Washington Square was portioned off for a Flower Market.

In 1855 when the twenty-seventh annual autumnal exhibition was in course of arrangement, it was decided to show the exhibits under a tent on Penn Square, on the site of the present Municipal Building. The exhibition of 1856 was held at the same place.

With the completion of Horticultural Hall in 1867 the opening was celebrated by an exhibition held on June 6. The displays continued to be given in this building until the hall was destroyed by fire January 31, 1881. The structure was rebuilt and again used by the Society for its flower shows until the second destruction by fire, May 27, 1893.

The new Horticultural Hall, Broad Street below Locust, opened in 1896 with the November Exhibition, and all subsequent displays were given there until June, 1917, when the property was sold.

The November exhibition, 1917, was held in the First Regiment Armory, Broad Street at Callowhill. No exhibition was held in 1918 on account of the World War.

In 1919 a small annual exhibition was held in Masonic Hall, Ardmore, Pa.

The 1920 annual exhibition was held in the First Regiment Armory.

Annual exhibitions of 1921 and 1922 were held at the Academy of Music.

In 1923 the principal exhibition was the Dahlia Show, held at the Cavalry Armory, Thirty-second Street and Lancaster Avenue.

In 1924, 1925 and 1926, through the courtesy of the Trustees of The Pennsylvania Museum and the Commissioners of Fairmount Park, the exhibitions were held in Memorial Hall, Fairmount Park, and were free to the public.

Report of the Executive Council of The Pennsylvania Horticultural Society

For the year ending December 31, 1926

In reviewing the past year, which was the ninety-ninth of the Society's existence, there are a number of events and circumstances which we can note with considerable satisfaction.

The Library has been used more than ever before, and the Library Committee has added all the new and desirable horticultural publications that have appeared during the year. It is thoroughly up-to-date, and we urge all members to keep it in mind and use it whenever opportunity occurs. The Society has published a book, compiled by Miss Mary Evans, entitled, "Garden Books, Old and New." This book has been printed and is being distributed under the direction of the Library Committee. The Chairman of the Library Committee says, "The list is varied and well selected, and the division into subjects and the grouping under these heads is most helpful. Miss Evans has made a practical selection for amateurs, and has not listed the more scientific works." These books are being retailed at $1.00 each and may be obtained at the Secretary's office.

Horticulture is an interesting and instructive magazine that the members receive every two weeks. It has attained a high standard, and, we believe, is today the best publication in the country devoted exclusively to flowers, shrubs and plants. Our members are constantly expressing their appreciation of this delightful publication.

The Lectures during the past season were interesting and instructive. They were thoroughly enjoyed by large audiences, and the schedule for next year promises interesting talks and pictures from well-known Horticultural lecturers.

Our Exhibitions during the past year have been very successful. This Society co-operated with The Florists' Club of Philadelphia in staging a very beautiful and successful exhibition in the Commercial Museum the week of March 9th. The large hall was beautifully decorated, and the exhibits surpassed those of the previous year in both quality and quantity. We were fortunately favored with pleasant weather during most of the days, and the attendance was about 45,000, with an admission charge of 50 cents. The year before we gave a free show, with an attendance of over 80,000. The Exhibitors were almost unanimous in advocating a smaller attendance with paid admission, as it gave people who were interested an opportunity to see the exhibition better by preventing overcrowding and also helped defray the heavy expense.

The Orchid Show, held in May, was without doubt the most beautiful show of its kind ever held in this country, if not in the world. The show was really held by the American Orchid Society, and this Society co-operated in every way possible by securing for them the hall and loaning them our exhibition paraphernalia, etc. The attendance during the three days was over 106,000, and the people of Philadelphia had an opportunity to see some of the finest and rarest plants and flowers in the country. The exhibits staged by Mr. Burrage of Boston, Mr. Roland of Nahant, and Mr. Dixon, Mr. Burk and Mr. Widener of our Society were beautiful beyond expression, and it will probably be many years before the Philadelphia public will again have an opportunity to see such a wonderful floral display.

The June show, which was held in Memorial Hall, Fairmount Park, had an attendance of over 16,800. The roses, peonies and other spring flowers were of the highest quality, and the table decorations staged by the four co-operating Garden Clubs evidenced keen competition and great interest.

The Dahlia Show was one of the largest and finest of its kind that we have ever held. There was an attendance of 26,720, and the entries were over four hundred.

The Hardy Chrysanthemum Show, held in the Society's rooms on November 4th and 5th, was visited by hundreds of people in the two days it lasted.

Gold Medals were exchanged with the Massachusetts Horticultural Society and the Horticultural Society of New York. We hope this practice will continue, as it adds interest to the prizes. Our Gold Medal in New York was won by Mrs. E. F. Constable, and in Boston it was won by Mr. Thomas Roland.

The Schaffer Memorial Cup was awarded to Mr. Samuel M. Vauclain as a Sweepstake Prize at all shows in 1926. The Schaffer Memorial Gold Medal was awarded to Mr. Albert C. Burrage of Boston for conspicuous and successful efforts during the year 1925 to advance Horticulture.

Silver Cups were given to the following Societies for prizes at their exhibitions:

Rutledge Horticultural Society.

Ardmore Women's Club.

Lansdowne Horticultural Association.

Roxborough Horticultural Society.

Bala-Cynwyd Women's Club.

Doylestown Nature Club.

The Robert C. Wright Rose Medal was awarded at the June Show to Mrs. C. S. Tyson. This Medal will be awarded every year for the best individual rose exhibited by an amateur, shown in any class.

The Council Room has been used for sixty meetings. The following Societies and Committees have made use of it:

Garden Club Committee.

Wild Flower Preservation Society.

John Bartram Association.

School of Horticulture for Women.

Farm and Garden Association.

American Rose Society.

Wild Flower Committee of Garden Clubs.

It was also used for a very successful exhibition of Christmas wreaths early in December. Trophy Cabinets are being made, and will be installed in the Council Room for the display of Cups and Medals awarded to Clubs, Associations and individual members of the Society. We believe that these will be very attractive and interesting features of the Society's rooms.

The Society is obliged to look for some other suitable place in which to hold its exhibitions, as the Trustees of the Pennsylvania Museum have declined to grant us the privilege to use Memorial Hall in the future. Your Exhibition Committee hopes to find a suitable place in ample time for the announcement of our Spring Show. Memorial Hall, being the property of the City of Philadelphia, we were able to use same without any rental, and consequently to give a free show. For future exhibitions, we shall probably have to hire a hall, and therefore charge a small admission fee.

As the Society enters upon its hundredth year, plans are under consideration for the celebration of its Centennial Anniversary next November. A committee has been appointed for this purpose, and a program will be completed very soon and due announcement made to the members.

The Society proposes to publish its history in an interesting volume, which will be available for all members soon after the close of the Centennial year.

During the past year we have been fortunate in having the continued co-operation of the Garden Club of Philadelphia, The Gardeners, The Weeders, The Four Counties' Garden Club and The Florists' Club of Philadelphia.

Our membership has greatly increased, and the Society today, as we are about to enter upon our hundredth year, is much larger than ever before, but we hope that before one hundred years are completed we will make still greater gains and reach the two-thousand mark. During 1926 our membership increased from 917 to 1,111, and if each and every member would only resolve to secure at least one other the 2,000 membership would be easily attained.

During the past year the Society lost by death more than twenty members, whose names will be found in the Necrology. Several of these have been very active in matters pertaining to Horticulture. Among them was Mr. Clement B. Newbold, who served this Society as President for five years (1908-1913), and at the time of his death was one of our honorary Vice-Presidents. Mr. J. Otto Thilow had been a member for thirty-eight years, and was a member of the Executive Council for sixteen years. Mr. Robert E. Griffith was a very able and valuable member of our Finance Committee. Mr. Hosea Waterer had been a member of the Society forty-two years and had done much for the advancement of Horticulture in America. Proper resolutions, expressing the grief of members of the Executive Council and the loss sustained by the Society, were passed when each death was chronicled. Fourteen members resigned on account of removal, and for various other reasons, and eighteen were dropped for non-payment of dues.

On behalf of the Executive Council:

JAMES BOYD,

President.
